What They Learn

Second and third graders learn and practice the pro-social skills needed to be a helpful classmate, friend, and family and community member. Skills are taught directly and practiced through stories, games, and cooperative and competitive activities.

Social Bridges 2-3 curriculum focuses on the following core skills: learning and following social rules, emotional regulation, turn-taking, communication skills, social filter, and social prediction.

The group will meet monthly in a community setting to help generalize skills.

Parents receive weekly written communication regarding the social tools their child is learning and suggestions for practicing, reinforcing, and coaching skills at home.
