What They Learn

Kindergarteners and first graders learn and practice the pro-social skills needed to be a helpful classmate, friend, and family and community member. Skills are taught directly and practiced through stories, games, and cooperative and competitive activities.

Social Bridges K-1 curriculum focuses on the following core skills: learning and following social rules, emotional regulation, turn-taking, joining in play and conversation skills. Social coaching is provided by facilitators to help the children use their social skills in the moment.

The group will meet monthly in a community setting to help generalize skills.

Parents receive weekly written Communication regarding the social tools their child is learning and suggestions for practicing, reinforcing, and coaching skills at home.
